How do you make money from TikTok?

There are many ways to make money on TikTok -including brand sponsorships, selli ng merchandise, and creating in-feed ads. Multiple income streams provide greate r security, but when deciding how you'll make real money on TikTok, the bigg est factor is your audience.

Frequent posting. A consistent stream of content will keep you at the forefront of your followers' minds, add value to your content in the eyes of TikTok

9;s algorithm, and give you more opportunities to go viral and expand the scope of your audience.

Pick the right time. You'll want to go live when most of your followers are online. Check your audience insights by going to your profile settings and selec ting the Analytics tab to see when your audience is most active.

Entice your fans with rewards. Audiences are likely to increase their donations if they're getting something worthwhile in return. Reward your biggest suppo rters with alluring benefits, like exclusive content and free merchandise.

The tricky part of using social media to sell products is not overdoing the amou nt of promotional material. Your fans understand that you need funding to keep c reating the content they love, but no one wants to follow an account that just f eels like it's advertising constantly.
